A curious souvenir of the first Fenian raid has been found in the Montreal Court House archives. It is a letter addressed Mr. James Stevens, head centre or the Fenian Brotherhood, New York, enclosing a $10 note of the Irish Republic.

Mrs. D. A. Melvin, the wife of the proprietor of the New York House, Montreal, has obtained an alimony of $30 per month pending the result of civil proceedings she has taken against Mr. Melvin for separation from bed and board. Melvin denies the charges and blames his mother-in-law.

Intelligence is received from St. Paul DeLoanda, confirming the previous reports, that it is impossible that the report of Stanley's death can be true. The Congo State authorities, and the Belgian officials, all deny the report. It is expected that direct news from Stanley, will be received in a few days from Bona.

Robert McGarry, a boy 12 years old, and Harry Richards, only 11 years old, were drowned in Gwynn's Falls, near Baltimore this evening. The lads were strangers to each other, but while Harry was sitting on a rock Robert McGarry saw him step off, and noticing that he was unable to swim, made a leap to save him.

A Kentucky couple began married life recently under circumstances that promise well for their future fidelity. They walked 19 miles through the rain to find a justice, and when they reached his house they learned that they could not be married until morning. They waited outside all night, and were united as soon as the office opened.

On her way from Balmoral to Windsor to attend the Jubilee, Queen Victoria was stopped by a swarm of bees. It was at night. The bees had swarmed in the glass box of a signal lamp and put out the light. The engineer not seeing the customary light stopped the train, and would have secured the bees and taken them on to Windsor as a memento had there been time.

Thos. Nelson & Sons, sole American agents for the Oxford Bible Society, stated to-day that the demand for the revised new testament is very small. It had a tremendous success at first, but since then the sales have fallen off. So many publishers got out editions that everybody was supplied, and enough has been left over to supply all of Europe.

In a private house in San Francisco there is said to be an eagle which has some peculiarities not common to the general run of birds that are not classed with singers and talkers. It is probably six years old, and was brought from Alaska. It can say the alphabet, and will respond to those he is acquainted with in language as near English as that heard from parrots and other speaking birds. It is also said to be a great rat catcher, and has been known to catch a dozen rats in one day.

Blind Tom.

BALTIMORE, Md., July 30.—Judge Bond in the United States Circuit Court, in the matter of Thomas Wiggins, commonly called "Blind Tom," the celebrated pianist, against Jas. Bethune, passed an order that the defendant who has kept Blind Tom and his earnings, since the time of slavery, deliver him to the United States Marshal on August 26th next, at the United States Circuit Court at Alexandria, Virginia, and that the Marshal deliver him at once into the hands of Eliza Bethune, the defendant to pay a certain sum of money, the earnings of Blind Tom, into court for the credit of the same. The defendant has had the custody of Tom since 1865, and this proceedings was by his mother, Charlote Wiggins, to release him from his custody, and obtain possession of his earnings, which the defendant has appropriated to his own use, and which will be very large.

PORTLAND NEWS.

This Season's Salmon Pack—Education in Alaska—Hotel Wanted, &c.

A correspondent writing from Portland on the 20th ult., states that a merchant who returned this afternoon from Astoria says that there is a slight improvement in the salmon catch, the boats averaging about eighteen fish per day. The pack last season was 448,000 cases up to August 1st. This season there is a shortage of between 75,000 and 85,000 cases. The pack this year is estimated at 360,000 and possibly 400,000. Last season a number of vessels were loaded with salmon. Only one has received a cargo so far this season. Three are now loading, none of which will be fully loaded with fish.

Hon. N. W. P. Dawson, United States Commissioner of Education, has arrived in this city upon his way to Alaska Territory. His mission to this coast is to examine the present public school system of Alaska and advise an extension of educational facilities wherever needed.

In the United States Court to-day Judge Deady made an order for the sale of three blocks of real estate belonging to the Ben Holladay (a well known pioneer in Victoria) estate. The price to be paid is $37,000, which will be paid to some of the creditors.

The following advertisement has been sent to the leading newspapers of the east from the Portland Board of Trade: "The citizens of Portland, Oregon, will pay a cash subsidy in the proportion of one dollar to every three dollars furnished by any one who will build, equip, and give bonds to run a hotel of the first-class in that city; or they will take a suitable proportion of stock in a company organized for the same purpose. No proposal involving a total of less than $500,000 will be entertained. Portland has now 40,000 people, and its wholesale trade employs a capital of $54,000,000. It is situated at the virtual junction of the Columbia and Willamette rivers, and is the point at which all the products of their immense watersheds can be most easily massed for exportation in sea-going vessels or distribution by the Northern, Southern and Union Pacific railroads, all of which terminate here. It is the nearest point to which the ores of the Cœur d'Alene mines can be brought for smelting, and by a water level route. The country tributary to it will this year produce 20,000,000 bushels of wheat alone. It offers the best opportunity for all kinds of investments of any city upon the Pacific coast." Communications are to be addressed to the Board of Trade, Portland.

MUMMY 3300 YEARS OLD.

The Wonderful Discoveries at Sidon. Jewelry of Great Value.

BEIRUT, Syria, June 9.—The excavations and discoveries at Sidon still continue with remarkable results. The number of sarcophagi at present brought to light is eighteen, and some of them are most magnificent, and will rank high among archæological treasures. They are of enormous size, and the sculpture is elaborate and in perfect preservation. Upon one of them alone are eighteen almost detached statues, about three feet in height without a single scratch and of pure marble.

The most remarkable of them has just come to light last week. It is an ancient Phœnician sarcophagus, which had never been opened, and contained a mummy and a large amount of jewelry of great value. The mummy, when unrolled, was found to be the body of a man in middle life and the state of preservation was astonishing. The features, and, in fact, the entire body were intact; the flesh was tender and yielded to pressure, and teeth, hair and viscera were all in place. Upon the outside of the lid of the sarcophagus is an inscription of seven and a half lines in Phœnician characters, and also one in Egyptian hieroglyphics. The bi-lingual inscription of such an ancient date excites great expectations. We shall have to wait to have it deciphered by the servants before we can know the full value of the statements it contains. The sarcophagus is of black basalt such as comes from Egypt, and it may have been made in Egypt by order from Sidon. The date of it is, of course, a matter of conjecture as yet. It may be anywhere from 800 to 1500 B. C., and even older. This strange being, who has been brought forth literally from the tomb of the ages to face the nineteenth century—who is he? What if he should be Ethbaal, "King of the Zidonians" and father of Jezebel, or some older king who flourished in the earlier days of "Great Zidon?" It is more than probable that he was a royal or princely character.

The value of this enormous find is roughly estimated as approaching a sum not far from $800,000. One of the European consuls in Beirut has offered $25,000 for one of the sarcophagi. It was not accepted, and the Turkish Government are boxing the entire lot, and have sent a special steamer to transport them to Constantinople.—Rev. James S. Dennis, D. D.

ENGLISH POLITICS.

Business Before the House—Battenberg's Appointment—Gould's Bank.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—In the House of Commons to-day, the Right Hon. W. H. Smith made a statement with regard to the Government's intentions as to the disposition of business before the House. Several important bills, he said, would be abandoned. Among them was the Railway Rate Bill, which proposes reforms similar to those in the American Interstate Railway Act. The Mines Bill and Irish allotments bills would be maintained. The House is to sit on Saturdays until the end of the session. The impression prevails that more bills than the government has announced must be given up or the session will last until the middle of September.

Lord George Hamilton, said Radical jeers, spoke in justification of the appointment of Prince Louis of Battenberg to the command of the Ironclad Dreadnought. The Radicals gave notice that they would oppose the vote for the Prince's salary, when the naval estimates were prepared.

In the House of Lords, the Marquis of Salisbury, replying to a question of Lord Rosebery said the government had no information of the establishment of a bank in China by Mr. Gould of New York, as reported in a dispatch from Shanghai to the London Standard.

Presence of Mind.

The chief reason why good swimmers are so often drowned when they are accidentally thrown into the water is because the shock causes them to lose their presence of mind. The loss of presence of mind leads to paralysis of the body, or to such wild exertions as accellarate drowning, instead of contributing to preservation.

THE CHINA-JAPAN MAIL.

Suggestions Made as to the Place for Closing and Opening the Bags.

The Canadian Postoffice Department through its Secretary, Mr. William White, gives notice that mails for Japan and China will be closed at Montreal on the undermentioned dates for transmission via the Canadian Pacific Railway to Vancouver and thence by ocean steamers to Yokahama and Hongkong. Correspondence for the countries above mentioned to be included in these mails must be dispatched so as to reach Montreal by the afternoon of the days named, which are Wednesday, 27th July, to catch the steamer of the 2nd August; Wednesday, 24th August for the steamer of the 30th of that month; Saturday, 17th Sept. for the steamer of the 23rd of that month; Tuesday, 11th October, for the steamer of 17th, and Friday, 4th Nov., for steamer of the 4th of that month, and hereafter as may be from time to time announced. The notice here specifies the rates of postage to be charged which are 5c per ½ oz.; postal cards 2c.; printed matter 1c. per 2 oz.; samples and patterns 1c per 2 oz. and 2c. minimum prepayment; commercial papers 1c. per 2 oz., 5c minimum prepayment. The registration charge on all classes of matter is 5c. Of these circulars only 1,000 copies were issued, whilst there are at least 7,000 post offices in the Dominion.

But the absurdity of the regulation is to be found in the fact that Montreal has been selected as the place for the closing of the mail for all points in the east, Winnipeg, we suppose, included. The first mail under this regulation reached the Victoria office last night. The steamer will not sail till to-morrow. Hence it follows that a couple of days is lost to eastern houses, a very important matter with houses having a heavy mail for either China or Japan. Victoria is the last point of call for outgoing, as well as first for incoming steamers. Did the post office officials know their duty thoroughly, and were they alert in the public interest, Victoria would be the office selected for the closing of the mails for the Orient, and now that attention has been directed to the subject it is to be hoped the suggestion made will be acted upon and thus render more effective and thorough the Canadian trans-Pacific mail service.

The Atlantic mail service is conducted on a very different system. With the Allan line going and returning the mails are dropped off and taken on at Moville, in the north of Ireland, and transmitted to the leading commercial centres with great haste—the mail train being the swiftest of all the services on the railways in Ireland, England and Scotland. A similar practice prevails in the South with the American mail steamers, Queenstown being made the point from which mails are sent and taken on board. From the Victoria office a mail for China and Japan is made up on the 2nd, 19th and 30th of each month and sent via the Sound overland to San Francisco to catch the mail steamers leaving that port. If the government orders are carried out mail matter reaching Montreal one hour after the dates named the letters, newspapers and other matter going by post must remain for the outgoing mail from this city as named in the schedule of departing and arriving. It may not be out of place to state that the Victoria China-Japan mail exceeds that of all other places in the Dominion combined many time over.

The Port Augusta sails to-morrow (Thursday) forenoon. The mail from here will close some time early in the forenoon, particulars of which can be ascertained at the postoffice.

EAST-BOUND FREIGHT.

The Cargo Brought Up by the Mexico Last Trip.

The Mexico, which arrived from San Francisco last Monday, had the following merchandise on board for this city and eastern United States cities for transhipment over the C. P. R. The values to the different cities are thus quoted:

HON. THOS. WHITE

Explains the Object of His Visit to the Far West.

The Hon. Thomas White, Minister of the Interior, during his stay in Winnipeg was interviewed by a press representative, to whom he stated that the object of his trip is to visit some parts of the Northwest and British Columbia that he has not seen before; among them Kamloops, in British Columbia, a considerable settlement, and at which there are some questions of interest to be settled. I also want to see Battleford, said Mr. White, in relation to some matters, and had intended to get to Edmonton this year, but am afraid I cannot accomplish both; so I shall have to defer visiting Edmonton until another year. I have promised to spend one or two days in New Westminster; but that is not so important, as the deputy has fixed up matters in regard to the claims of squatters in that neighborhood on the whole satisfactory. I have some matters to talk about with the local government of British Columbia connected with the land grants, and some matters that remain unadjusted, arising out of the settlement act, and I shall have to go to Victoria on that account. My intention was to have gone straight through to the coast, and have made stoppages on the way back; but Mr. Burgess being here on his return journey, I stopped over to confer with him as to what he has been doing in the Northwest and on the coast. We spent the whole day Saturday, all the members of the Land Board being present except Mr. Aikman, in going over matters that had been settled in connection with the New Westminster and Port Moody squatters; consequently on Saturday we did not go into town at all, excepting to call upon Archbishop Taché and congratulate him upon attaining his sixty-fourth birthday. Since coming here we have gone through the Dominion mining regulations relating to lands in British Columbia, which have been considered by the commissioner, the Deputy Minister and Mr. Aikman. We finally settled them, and they are now ready for publication. To-day I have met numbers of people in regard to various matters."

THE NEW SCHOOL SITE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR—I notice in last night's issue of THE TIMES a correspondent signed "Justice" says "he is informed that I as well as some other members of the School Board, were consulted as to the location of the new school site." I wish to state that I was never consulted on this subject, neither by the Provincial Secretary or any one else, nor did I know that such had been done until I noticed an item in the Colonist stating "that the Provincial Secretary, Superintendent of Education and the Trustees had decided upon the site." The item certainly was incorrect because only one of the Trustees seemed to be cognizant of the affair.

G. L. MILNE.

THE SCHOOL SITE—THE VACANT PORTFOLIO.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—As my name was used rather freely in your issue of last evening, I hope you will not deny me an opportunity of correcting two of the statements therein made. Your correspondent "Justice" has been misinformed. He states that the Provincial Secretary consulted me (as chairman of the board of trustees) with others before selecting a site for the new ward school. I was not consulted. The first knowledge I received of the choice of the site was through THE TIMES. Had I been asked I should have recommended a site nearer the centre of the ward.

In a leading article headed "The Treasurership" you inform the public that I am "nursing my wrath and keeping it warm" because the ministry have preferred Mr. Turner for the vacant cabinet portfolio. I hope I shall not be considered as violating confidence when I inform you that at a caucus of the government members, held soon after Mr. Smithe's death, I proposed and supported Mr. Turner for Finance Minister. The nomination proved acceptable to the caucus.

I have to thank you for your frequent kind reference to the "claims" I am supposed to have on the government and party; but I cannot agree with you when you express the opinion that Mr. Turner is reluctant to face his constituents. I entertain not the slightest doubt that he will be returned by a very large majority over any possible candidate. Apart from his personal popularity, which is deservedly great, the need of one Island representative in the cabinet is too apparent for the electors to neglect an opportunity to secure one.

Thanking you for your kindness in inserting this explanation,

I remain, truly yours,
D. W. HIGGINS.
Victoria, August 3, 1887.

AMERICAN NEWS.

A COSTLY DOOR.

NEW YORK, July 29.—D. O. Mills is having a $7,000 bronze door made for the tomb that he is building at Tarrytown. It will be eight feet by four feet six inches. The style is an imitation of the old-fashioned doors, with a lattice-work top. The paneling, cross-pieces, and wood grooves are to be repeated in bronze. Three companion pieces are to be made as windows. They are three feet by four and in bronze lattice work. The door will be one of the most tasteful pieces of bronze work turned out in this city for some time, and will be finished in a few weeks.

A MOTHER SLAYER.

EATON, Ohio, Aug. 2.—John Beall, 13 years old, who has been in jail six weeks on a charge of killing his mother, has made confession. At 1 o'clock June 13th the boy was at home with his mother at the farm house, and about 4 o'clock he alarmed the neighbors by saying that three tramps had killed his mother, and that he was asleep but awakened in time to see them leaving with her watch and money. The watch has since been found where he admits he hid it. He had shot his mother twice then nearly beheaded her with an axe. It is supposed that he was with the dead body three hours before giving the alarm. No motive for the crime is assigned, except that he was angry at what seemed to him to be evidence of favoritism shown to his sister by his mother.

WATER ON THE BRAIN.

The Colonist, worsted in argument, resorts to its old tactics of raillery and ridicule. Like the cuttle fish that escapes from a pursuer by slimy exudations, our venerable friend (who has apparently again resumed his place at the bellows) raises a cloud of dust about irrelevant issues, shouts himself hoarse and so thinks he can escape from the dilemma into which his ignorance has led him. We have shown most conclusively that the level of the lower reservoir was 135 feet to top of water, and that the reports of Messrs. HENDRY, BELL and MACKAY all agreed in so finding it. Even the Colonist's witness proved that Mr. HENDRY's report was correct. But our venerable friend is as much at sea among figures as a very little wiggler would be in the middle of the lower reservoir, and it is not surprising that he should make such extraordinary blunders as he has been guilty of during this discussion. Coun. HIGGINS would be justified at any time in changing his opinion if he found new light and more reliable information, but when he deliberately misrepresents facts and attempts to befog the people's minds by a lot of transparent balderdash, he is acting, to say the least, in a most reprehensible manner.

CABINET VACANCIES.

We have repeatedly called attention to the supineness of the government on many questions of pressing importance, and recent reference has been made to its studied attempt to slight the island and Victoria by refusing to give either representation in the cabinet. The honorable leader of the government stated, when making the explanation which follows a new deal in portfolios, that the unfinished cabinet would be completed immediately after prorogation. No attempt, so far as is apparent to to those without the charmed circle of Ronson's influence, has been made to carry out this promise, and the cabinet is still without a Finance Minister. The delay, we have no doubt, has been occasioned by party exigency, and the necessity for time to allay the "outraged feelings" of the disappointed of Esquimalt, rather than by the refusal of Mr. J. H. TURNER to accept the position, or his inability to make his business fit the altered circumstances. Mr. TURNER has always been willing to add his weight and respectability to the DAVIE administration, and has on several occasions, in public and in private, intimated that "Barkis" was never more "willin'" to wed than was the third member for Victoria to sacrifice himself for the benefit of his country and three thousand a year. About the only stumbling block in the way was a doubt that, in appealing to the electors for a ratification of his conduct, he might unfortunately be left in a minority, as DUCK was; but this fear has been overcome and before the House meets Mr. TURNER will either be doing the best he can to discharge the duties of Finance Minister, or he will be relegated into private life by the adverse vote of the people. The junior member for Esquimalt will have to be content with the crumbs that fall his way, in the shape of printing and advertising. He is a very good tool for the party in power; but as a member of the cabinet, the idea never was seriously entertained. He may feel disposed to kick, and may even summon up enough courage to show his teeth, but the Provincial Secretary knows how to manage him, and on the principle that a thief is set to catch a thief, he will be specially entrusted with the care of the disappointed and recalcitrant member.

IN the meantime it will be as well for the electors of Victoria to be on the alert. There is an election in the air, a storm is brewing, and it may burst sooner than most of us expect. With organization and a proper candidate in the field, poor Mr. TURNER will realize that a brilliant political career has been nipped prematurely in the bud, and our friend of the Colonist will be avenged.

Father Andze, who returned to Winnipeg from a trip to Rome, has made known some sensational incidents in connection with Riel's rebellion, among other things an offer by members of the Mounted Police to assist Riel to escape from prison at Regina while awaiting execution, with the supposed intention of shooting him while making the attempt.

Slavery is on its last legs in Brazil. There is no doubt that the bill now before the Parliament of the Empire providing for the final stages of emancipation will pass. It grants freedom to all slaves registered under the Act of 1871, the number of such being about 1,200,000. They must serve two years longer, but they can redeem themselves for about $200 each. Slaves over fifty years of age need not thus serve, and if one of a married couple secures his or her freedom the other also becomes free.

THE POLICY OF HIS HOLINESS.

The Paris Moniteur publishes the text of a letter addressed by His Holiness the Pope to Cardinal RAMPOLLA on the 15th of June when the latter assumed the functions of Pontificial Secretary of State. In this letter the Pope explains fully the principles which he has followed in the government of the church. He declares that he took upon himself the mission to reconcile the peoples and the governments of civilized States. Referring first to Italy, the Pope developes the ideas expounded in the Consistory Allocution of May 23rd, when he laid down as a basis of pacification Italy's acknowledgement of the independence of the Holy See. He reiterates his claims to territorial sovereignty as an indispensable condition of settlement, all other schemes, he says, being unworthy of consideration. Italy herself, says the Pope, could reap most splendid benefits at home and abroad from the settlement recognizing the Pope's temporal power. Adverting next to Austria, the Pope says that the piety of the Emperor and the devotion of the Imperial family to the Holy See have rendered mutual relations the best possible and the wise statesmen enjoying the confidence of the Emperor have promoted religion in Austria-Hungary and the establishment of perfect concord. France, the elder daughter of the Church, was menaced by serious evils. The Pope trusted those evils would be dispelled through the observance of the letter and spirit of the acts solemnly concluded with the Church. Turning to Spain, the Pope says the first need is a union of Catholics in defence of their religion, in devotion to the Holy See and in reciprocal charity, so that Spain may not be misguided by personal aims. Regarding Prussia, the Pontiff says it is necessary to continue the work of religious peace-making to its full achievements. Great things have been done. The well disposed mind of the Emperor and the good intentions of his Ministers permit His Holiness to cherish the hope that his efforts to ameliorate the condition of the Church will not prove barren. The solicitude felt by the Vatican for Prussia extends equally to the other States of Germany and those States are now happily seeking the friendliest relations with the Vatican. The Pope concludes with reference to the fostering missions leading back to the Church her separated people.

A PEST ON ITS TRAVELS.

The farmers of British Columbia are a specially favored class. Those of them who came to the coast from the east—and they are not a few—vividly remember the many pests they had there to contend with. Here, so far as known to us, the dreaded Canada thistle is unknown, as is also the wild oat. In the insect line we do not hear of the weevil, the pessian fly or the midge. But the most destructive and dreaded of all is the Colorado potato beetle—an insect also unknown in British Columbia. It is now reported that this long-dreaded insect has made its appearance in Germany, where it has at last gained a firm foot-hold, despite the efforts which the German government has used for the last decade to keep the dreaded pest from its domains. In previous years heroic measures were used. In fields where the beetle had made its appearance the crops were appraised, to be afterwards paid for by the government, the vines were pulled together, drenched with petroleum and destroyed by fire. The seaports were made objects of especial precaution, and the mails were carefully watched, as persons in America frequently sent to friends or relatives specimens of the ten-lined and seemingly ten-lived insects as curiosities. In the face of all these efforts to keep him out, however, the insect has eluded the embargo and taken up his residence in Germany. The German farmer lacks the persistency and ingenuity of the American granger, and being accustomed to rely upon the Government for protection in such an emergency, in most cases folds his hands in despair as he contemplates the havoc wrought by this latest infliction; the damage to the crops will be serious this season, and may be ruinous next year. As the beetle made his way across the Atlantic leisurely, he will doubtless in his own good time appear to the dwellers on the shores of the Mediterranean, the Caspian and the Pacific; but let us devoutly hope that never will it make its appearance on the North American Pacific Coast.

MR. JOHN BRIGHT'S OPINION.

The London correspondent of the Toronto Mail has cabled the following letter received from Mr. JOHN BRIGHT on the question of Commercial Union:

DEAR SIR,—I do not know what is intended by a Commercial Union between Canada and the United States. If you mean that no tariff should exist between the two countries, such a condition would be greatly to their mutual advantage; but if it is proposed to extend the States tariff to Canada as respects imports into Canada, then such a change would be hostile to England, and if the present Canadian tariff were maintained for imports other than from the States, England would be at a great disadvantage in her trade with Canada. I always believed that the imposition of high protective duties as against English manufactures was and is the first in the direction of a separation of Canada from England, and if goods from the States are to be admitted into Canada free of duties, or at lower duties than from England, another and more serious step would be taken in the direction of separation. If the State of Canada could adopt free trade or a tariff with low duties, following the example of England, the example of the English-speaking nations would have a great effect upon other nations and would influence the world in favor of peace. The great enemies of mankind are war and the tariff. War and its expenditure and waste give us excuse for tariffs or render them necessary, and tariffs separate nations and make war more probable and more frequent. It is a deplorable thing that, in your great and free continent, the only thing not free is the industry of your people, and that you in this respect follow the pernicious example of the old and blind nations of Europe. England sets a grand example, and it is always a grief to me that her children in other lands and on your continent do not admire and follow it. Yours, etc., JOHN BRIGHT.

TINY STAGE STARS.

HOW CHILD ACTORS ARE OBTAINED AND TAKEN CARE OF.

A Hundred Children for a Spectacular Performance—Bother with the Mothers of the Wee Ones—Scared Before the Public.

"How do you get the little professionals?" asked the reporter. He was talking with Mrs. Fernandez, who trains children for the stage, and whose daughter, the dark eyed, dark haired Bijou Fernandez, is the star child of the profession.

"By the best way of securing anything one wants—advertising in the newspapers. A short time ago I wanted 100 children to appear in the 'Fall of Babylon,' at Erastina, from June to September. They'll live there with nurses whom I have engaged to look after them, and will have a grand time romping over the ground when they're not in the spectacle. They'll have a summer in the the country, lots of fun, and make money besides. I advertised for children to go on the stage at the time I was put in charge of the child department of this production, and I must have had 500 applications. Anyhow, the line of mothers and children extended down the two flights of stairs from my office to the street and around the corner. Even farmers from Long Island and New Jersey came with their children."

MAKING A SELECTION.

"How do you select from so large a number?"

"Usually I make a general selection by questioning the children—such of them as are old enough to talk—and finding out if their hearts will really be in their work. If I find that the little ones are frightened at the idea of going on the stage, and would have to be forced by their parents, I have nothing more to do with them. But it rarely happens that a child doesn't want to go on the stage. On the contrary, children as a rule are delighted with the idea. Having made a general selection, by questioning them on these points, taking also looks into consideration, I appoint a time for a further trial. I can soon tell if there is any good material to work on. The names of those I have thus selected go down in my address book. When I send children out with traveling companies, I also try to secure engagements as super ladies for their mothers or elder sisters."

"Aren't many of the children young Booths and Andersons in their mothers' estimation?"

"Oh, yes. Many mothers bring to me children they call natural born actors. For such I have little use. They have been drilled at home to recite mechanically. I want children who are natural—who have children's emotions. I don't even teach my children elocution. I first teach them to carry themselves gracefully and then to go through the business required of them naturally and easily."

"What ages have the children on your list?"

"I take them as young as 6 months, because I always like to have two good babies on my list. From babyhood I jump at once to 4 years, and the highest limit is 14 years."

"Don't their theatrical surroundings make children look upon life as artificial?"

"Sometimes. I can tell you one or two instances which are amusing and yet pathetic. One little boy, who was taken to the seashore for the first time last summer, turned to his mother as he saw the waves rolling in and said: 'How do they work them?' Another child, a little girl, exclaimed, on looking out upon a country landscape for the first time, on awakening after a night's journey: 'Mamma! mamma! the stage is set for the first act.'"

NEVER BECOME PROMINENT.

"Are stage children apt to develop into prominent actors and actresses?"

"Rarely. They seem to grow tired emotionally and to lose their sparkle and vivacity. My Bijou shall never become an actress unless she shows great talent after she has passed into womanhood. If she gives promise of securing a leading place she may go on the stage—not otherwise. I can imagine no life more wretched than that of mediocrity on the stage."

"How did you hit upon the idea of training children for the stage?"

"In my own stage experience I had observed that the engagement and training of children gave managers so much trouble that they often put aside a good play because it called for a child or children. You see, if they wanted even only a few children they had to advertise and then make selections from 100 applicants or more, each accompanied by a mother who considered her offspring a budding genius. The trouble wasn't over, either, when the selection had been made. In fact it had just begun. Actors and actresses grumbled at rehearsals because they were delayed by fractious children. Then at the performances things would go wrong, because the children that had been good at rehearsals would get scared when they faced the public. But the mothers were far worse than the children, and managers dreaded them far more. First of all, the mothers insisted on coming to rehearsal. What a racket they raised when the stage manager had to talk sternly to an offspring! Then they all came behind the scenes at night during the performance and crowded into the first entrance, so that they could see something of the play from it. Fancy an actor or actress trying to effect an entrance or exit through the first entrance when some fifteen mothers are jammed into it."—New York Sun.

PAPERS FOR NOTHING.

THE NOVEL COMBINATION PROPOSED BY A PARIS JOURNAL.

Le Gaulois' Offer to the Prominent Merchants of the French Capital—Advantages of the Scheme—How it Will Work.

I heard only to-day of a novel combination made by Le Gaulois, a royalist Catholic journal, edited by the famous Jew, Arthur Meyer, he who unfairly wounded Edmund Drumont, author of "La France Juive," in a duel, some months ago. The intention of the paper is to economize for its subscribers and at the same time aid some charitable work. The paper is to be given for nothing; or, in other words, the subscription is to be paid by the merchants patronized by the subscribers. Le Gaulois starts on the basis that a journal is the bond of union, the medium of communication, between its readers and mercantile houses. On one side the journal receives money from advertisements, on the other from subscriptions, so that it is much simpler to ask the mercantile houses to pay the subscriptions. In that case, readers will be anxious to subscribe and mercantile houses anxious to pay the largest number of subscriptions possible, as each subscription represents a patron. Le Gaulois, therefore, has a list of 500 prominent houses that sell everything from a pair of shoes to a landau, and the names of these houses form a Livre d'Or—golden book. To each one of these merchants Le Gaulois said: "We offer you no ordinary advertisements, and only ask you to allow your name to be used in our columns three times a week. So much the worse for us. If our readers pay no attention to the insertion, you owe us nothing. But if they go to you—if they buy—so much the better for them. Then you will pay us the price of a subscription to The Gaulois for a length of time in proportion to the amount of the purchase."

To their readers they said: "Read our Livre d'Or. There you will find the names of your merchants. You will also find new names. Whenever you have a purchase to make go to one of the houses mentioned in the Livre d'Or. Buy, and do not mention The Gaulois, but take your receipted bill and send it to the journal as payment for your subscription."

The Gaulois accepts this bill as a check, and sends an employe to the house where you have made your purchase for the amount of your subscription."

ADVANTAGES OF THE SCHEME.

In this way the subscriber pays for his newspapers without untying his purse strings, and the merchant arranges for his advertisement by paying the subscription of his patron. But if the subscriber does not wish to pay the subscription with his receipt, preferring to pay as has been his custom, The Gaulois offers to give, in the subscriber's name, the price of his subscription to some charitable association. Then they return the receipt of the merchant and the receipt of the charitable association.

This scheme seems to have many advantages, and perhaps there is nothing unfavorable in connection with it. As The Gaulois subscriber does not announce himself as such when he buys, there is no danger that the merchants will increase their prices, and in Paris nearly all these houses have prices plainly marked. One important question is: How much must one buy in order to have the right to a Gaulois subscription? The yearly subscription is $11, and this represents five per cent. of the purchase, so that $220 must be spent to allow for the yearly subscription. I add a table which explains more fully:

1 Month.	3 Months.	6 Months.	1 Year.
$22.00	$55.00	$110.00	$220.00

However, one is not obliged to purchase for this amount at one time, and in one house; as many bills as one pleases—in as many houses (taken from The Livre d'Or, of course) as one pleases. An illustration, and I shall have finished:

A Chicagoan arrives in Paris; he takes rooms at one of the hotels mentioned in The Livre d'Or, Hotel Castiglione, for instance; he spends there $20; he goes to one of the tailors mentioned and spends $150; to a restaurant of The Livre d'Or and spends $50. He carries his receipts for $220 to The Gaulois and receives a subscription for one year.—Paris Cor. Chicago Times.

One of the "Airly" Members.

"It a' my painful duoty to remark dat Brudder Jurisprudence Johnson a' dead," said the president as the triangle sounded. "He war an honorary member, libin' in Montgomery, Alabamy, an' he was gineraliy referred to by de gineral public as Professor Johnson. He had de high honoh of bein' de only cul'd gem'n in de city who was admitted to de meetins of de White Man's Drug Stoh club. Sometimes he could be found in de barber shop under de Exchange hotel talkin' 'bout de way Dan'l got out o' de lion's den widout a scratch on his puson, an' sometimes he could be foun' at de newstan' in de postoffis, relatin' his pollytikis experiences an' hopin' somebody would buy him a paper of tobacker. He was one of de airly members of dis club, an' de only reason he was nebber present at any of our anyual meetins was bekase freight charges am so high.

"Yes, de purfessor has dropped off by de wayside while makin' de dusty journey of life. I knowed him pussonally fur many y'ars. While I can't say dat he bettered de world much, I know dat he never harmed it. As his eulogy I would say: 'Neither rich nor great—neither a philanthropist nor a statesman. Just simply a man who died widout an enemy.' De usual emblem of mournin' will be put out in de usual way, an' if he owed us any back dues we will call his account squar' to a cent. De evenin' will now be consumed in setin' upon communicashuns an' listenin' to reports."—Detroit Free Press.

The Tailors of New York.

"We don't have any more tailors or dressmakers in New York," said a drummer from Gotham, as he talked of the looser trousers, which are getting into fashion, "but the 'modistes' and 'artists' are doing the business this spring. There are no more tailors, but artist cutters, who fashion trousers only, or make a specialty of Albert coats, or are noted for their waistcoats, are planted thickly along Fifth avenue. A British swell and a New York got up man are two distinct animals. European tailors never indulge in make up. If a man has no more shoulders than a Boston bean boy, shoulderless he goes in England. But in New York young Slimpkins goes to his artist, and this individual makes a broad shouldered, full breasted thing of him—pads his but hip, thatches him on the shoulder, gives him a swell front and a bay window behind.

"The New York tailor has more right to the word artist, after all, than the usual clothier. He does modeling and architectural work that is not discreditable. There are some tailors here who are emulating the deceased Poole, of London, and are making themselves very solid with their customers by loaning them money, and in return some of the impecunious swells have had Brodie Shears on the avenue behind their trotters. One of the fraternity was greatly incensed that he had not been invited to his patron's wedding.

"Make out his bill," said he to his cashier, "and put on compound interest for his sins."—Detroit Free Press.

A Friend to All Honest People.

Everybody knows Col. Ingersoll's reputation as a lawyer and a politician, but every one cannot speak of his personality truly. Take the word "friend," for instance. The broadness of the term cannot be better shown than by something he said to a man one day last week. They were talking of the prosaic matter of "new shirts," when the colonel declared he was not going to have another made for him until he could find a shirtmaker who was honest enough to give the woman who did the work the $1.50 each that he was willing to allow.

"I'm afraid you'll have to wait some time," said his companion. "Shirtmakers' fortunes are not built that way."

"Then I'll wait," said the colonel. "Henceforth I wear no shirt until I have seen the woman who makes it, and she has told me herself that she got paid for her work!"

This, then, is what the word "friend," as applied above, means. No man can say that Col. Ingersoll ever paid him less than his work was worth, even in the most liberal sense of the word, or that he was ever asked for a good turn and was refused. It is not to his friends that this big hearted man is a friend, but to all honest men and women.—Fannie B. Merrill in New York World.

A Costly Experiment.

The Duke of Edinburgh seems to have very meager fitness for his position in the British navy. He recently had constructed at great expense in the Malta dock yard an immense boom, which was slipped on board the Temeraire for conveyance to Argostoli, as the duke had conceived the idea that it would be a fine thing to place this boom at the entrance of the harbor there and then to test the powers of the Polyphemus by making her burst it. Just as this crazy experiment was on the point of being tried it was pointed out to the duke by some officers who are more practical than himself that if by any chance the Polyphemus did not cut the boom clean in two a fearful catastrophe would be the result. So the duke reluctantly abandoned the idea. The boom was one of the largest and most elaborate that has ever been seen, and it has now been returned to Malta, where, presumably, it will be sold for a trifle, being "perfectly useless."—Detroit Free Press.

CITY AND PROVINCE.

—Kurtz's Jubilee Cigars are now ready.*

—Money saved by having your Plans made by FIRMIN, the ARCHITECT *

—The steamer Rainbow made the run from Victoria to Vancouver in seven and a half hours.

—Photographic views along the line of the C. P. R. in B. C., for sale at R. MAYNARD'S, Douglas St.

—Stolts Bros are prepared to supply their celebrated ICE CREAM in quantities to suit, by the glass, quart or gallon. *

—BABY CARRIAGES, the cheapest and best in the city at SHORT & ANDERSON'S, Douglas street.

—For a delicious MILK PUNCH or a genuine COCKTAIL go to the Pritchard House. *

—On Saturday last 35 passengers left Seattle for Vancouver and of that number 20 had through tickets for points east over the C. P. R.

—A patent reversible shirt, that can't be put on wrong side out, would be a great boon to Victoria's small boys during the swimming season.

—Tomb and Headstones, Monuments, in Marble, imported and local Grahite, Mantle pieces and Wash Stands in Marble; artistically executed, and at reasonable rates, at George Rudge's Marble Works, Douglas street, Victoria. Call and see specimens of work. *

—The contract for the erection of a new building for the Bank of British Columbia at New Westminster, has been awarded to J. G. McDonald.

—Families requiring extra quantities of sugar for preserving purposes will find it to their advantage to purchase at FELL & Co's. *

—Miss M. Campbell who so charmed a Victoria audience last May with her exquisite singing is teaching vocal and instrumental music in Kamloops, where the family now reside.

—Messrs. M. W. Waitt & Co. have just received several first-class ENGLISH PIANOS, with the celebrated FRENCH ACTION and all the latest improvements. Call and see them. *

—The Bank of Montreal at Vancouver opened on Monday, and the Bank of British North America expects to have everything ready for the transaction of business by the 15th inst.

—D. R. MUNRO, General S. S. Agent for Cunard, Guion, Albany, Dominion, Inman and all S. S. Co's. Prepaid passages at most favorable rates. Every berth secured on sale. *

—Several of the buildings on the Songish Indian reserve opposite the city are being pulled down and used as fuel by the few of the tribe now living on the rancherie.

—REDUCED PRICES:—Just received over 250 patterns fine mouldings, steel engravings and all latest pictures in stock. Framing and mounting a specialty. JOS. SOMMERS, Government street. *

—The Railway and Navigation Guide will be under the exclusive management of W. R. Menzies, who has purchased a half interest of the Guide Publishing Co. The settlement of all outstanding business will be done by him. *

—We don't believe it,—notwithstanding the Post-Intelligencer says so—that a lot of thieves, who were run out of this city are said to be hanging round Seattle. The police here have no knowledge of such a class having lately visited Victoria.

—Dr. A. C. West, dentist, will for the present occupy dental rooms in Hastings Photographic buildings, Fort street, where his old patrons and all requiring fine dental work, are respectfully invited to call. *

—The amount of taxes collected at Vancouver up to date, exceeds $25,000, leaving only about $6,000 unpaid. This speaks volumes for the solvency of the citizens, and also proves their willingness to render unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsers.

—Three first-class teams of draught horses, weight ranging from 1200 to 1500 pounds each, wagons and harness complete; also one mare suitable for family use, weight 1050, for sale. Apply to J. Haggerty, Rae St., between Douglas and Blanchard streets. *

—The amount of freight received in New Westminster over the C. P. R. for the week ending 31st July reached the enormous amount of 1,210,650 lbs. The charges on it amounted to $8,330.69. This is the biggest week's business on record.

—The Hastings saw mills will be running again in full blast within a few days, and on a more extensive scale than formerly. As the company pay monthly over $5,000 in wages and other ways, the difference has been felt in business circles since the mill was closed down some weeks ago.

—The Ottawa Evening Journal says: A consignment of tea for C. T. Bate & Co., shipped from Yokohama, Japan, on the 18th June, reached this city on the 19th inst., and is now in the warehouse. It was shipped via Vancouver, and was thus received in one month from date of shipment.

—Messrs E. G. Prior & Co., of this city, have opened a branch establishment at Kamloops, where they are doing a considerable trade. An idea of the extent of their business may be gathered from the fact that since opening they have sold three car loads of wagons, which also indicates that the country is settling up rapidly.

—The "boom" in Los Angeles is sloughing off, and now it is San Diego's turn to dance to the music of the boom. There is a downpour of money, and corner lots are hurling through the air. There aren't banks enough to hold all the coin in sight, so within the past two weeks three new ones have been organized by Kansas, San Francisco and Arizona capitalists. All are hunting for offices.

Administrator Appointed.

The Very Rev. J. J. Jonckan, Vicar General, has been appointed by the Most Rev. Archbishop Gross, of Oregon, administrator of the vacant diocese of Vancouver Island ad interim.

The Story of Metlakahtla.

Another Scheme Wanted.

Coun. D. R. Harris has given notice of the following motion to be moved to-night: "That Mr. Bell be requested to report to the Council as soon as possible on the best means of increasing the water supply of the city with reference to cost.

Victoria House.

The undersigned having leased his store to Messrs. Shears & Page, must clear out the balance of his stock in the next few days. The trade is invited to inspect. It is respectfully requested that all accounts due shall be paid on or before the 15th of August.

WILLIAM DENNY.

"C" Barracks.

An Ottawa telegram says: Arrangements are being made for the erection of barracks at Victoria, B. C., for the use of C Battery of Artillery. Lieut.-Colonel Holmes, R. C. A., who will command the corps, is expected here from Quebec in a few days, prior to his departure for Victoria, B. C. The battery will be organized before Christmas.

Coming to British Columbia.

Prof. Tanner, the eminent agriculturist, who arrived in Winnipeg last week, is in the country principally for the purpose of inspecting the Albany Colony, which was located near Qu'Appelle a short time ago. After spending some time at the colony, Prof. Tanner will visit other parts of the Territories and British Columbia.

The C. P. R. Ocean Subsidy.

A cablegram of the 30th states that the Canadian Pacific offer was that day submitted to Goschen, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who is considering the question. The whole case is now before the government, and the strong point urged is the saving of time and money, which would be effected by the Canadian Pacific mail route.

Plumbing Contract.

Mr. W. J. Farrell, of Yates street, has secured the contract for supplying and putting in the steam heating and plumbing fixtures in the new court house, on Bastion Square. The contract price is somewhere in the neighborhood of $5,000. The same gentleman will also put in the piping in Barnes' new building, Bastion Square, which will cost about $1200.

Important.

The goods damaged by water in consequence of the fire in the Arcade building will be sold at private sale commencing on Tuesday at Spencer's Arcade. Brussels Carpets, Tapestry Carpet, Felt and Hemp Carpet, Rope Matting, Kidderminster and Three-ply Carpets, Hearthrugs, Mats.

Men's and Boys' Hats, Caps, Ties, Gloves, Shirts, Socks, Underwear; also the goods damaged by the smoke. All goods will be marked in plain figures and sold for cash only. *

Coming Over the C. P. R.

Dr. Arthur T. Hills of the Lotos Club, New York, was the guest of Mr. C. F. Doane, the general manager of the Castle Garden Railroad Clearing House, on an excursion over the Canadian Pacific Railroad, which left New York on Monday. The party will have the use of the president's special car, and will consist of several well-known railroad officials, among whom may be mentioned A. B. Farnsworth, J. C. Anderson, E. V. Skinner and Lucius Tuttle.

"Kentucky Smile" chewing tobacco is the finest tobacco manufactured, and will last longer than cheap tobacco. J. B. Pace Tobacco Co., Richmond, Va. *

Mr. D. E. Brown's Assistant.

Says the Winnipeg Free Press of last Saturday: Mr. James Loutit, of the general freight and passenger office, C. P. R. here, leaves this morning for Vancouver, where he has accepted the position of chief passenger clerk in the office of D. E. Brown, district freight and passenger agent, C. P. R. Mr. Loutit is a genial gentleman, who will be missed in social circles, and particularly among draught players. He was an enthusiastic lover of that game and was one of the best players in the province. He leaves a host of friends who wish him success in his new home.

"Escort" plug chewing tobacco will cost you no more than inferior tobacco. Chew "Escort." *

The Opium Seizure.

The opium in transitu to Chicago in charge of the smuggler McLean was detained at Winnipeg. The Call says: "McLean did not intend shipping the opium as baggage but as freight, but the C. P. R. baggageman at Victoria told him he could get it through quicker and safer by having it checked. McLean gave the baggageman $120 to pay for the extra weight, but the extra only amounted to $52, the baggageman having evidently made $68 out of the transaction, though he lost his situation. The cases were of a sort that would at once arouse suspicion, and it is not surprising that they were detected. The opium will be detained here pending the decision of the customs department regarding its disposal. There are about three hundred pounds."

High Bred Sheep.

Mr. Holden, a wealthy English gentleman, who recently purchased a farm on the Lower Fraser Valley, has made arrangements with the C. P. R. Co. to take over from the Avonmouth in England, one hundred high bred sheep. The freight from that point to this city is $618. This little flock may increase rapidly and in a few years British Columbia may be celebrated for mutton and wool. The English Leicester sheep will be quite at home in this climate, if the fields are well fenced and free from briars and swamp.

The Salmon Pack.

The salmon pack on the Columbia river is running very short, and the Change, a local trade journal, estimates that the pack will not exceed 50 per cent. of last year. The same journal says: "As a consequence of the extraordinary demand for this fish, which cannot be met, all the large dealers are tendering fall fish and Alaska fish to buyers of Columbia river salmon in Eastern States in lieu of their original purchase, and large quantities of Alaska fish are being taken in substitution for Columbia river, at the original Columbia river figure. The Sacramento river, for the last four days, has been doing well. The usual fall pack is now taking place. It is estimated by conservative authorities as likely to be from twelve to twenty thousand cases.

Give Them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. *

Okanagan Items.

The ranchers are busy with their hay crop. In some spots it is a little light, but altogether it is a good crop.

On the 24th inst. a heavy thunder storm occurred.

The grain promises a heavy yield. The number of acres sown this year is greater than that of any previous season. Farmers knew that their grain would be bought to supply the new mill at Spallumcheen Landing. Considerable grain has already been cut on the ranches of Messrs. O'Keefe and Greenhough.

Miss Schubert, of Spallumcheen, paid a two weeks' visit to Mr. Lequime's.

Messrs. Postill and Lambly are still working the hydraulic at Mission Creek mines.

Work is to be commenced soon on the new road to the Cherry Creek mines.

Gladstone Cigars.

From Cariboo.

Mr. James Reed, M. P. for Cariboo, was amongst the arrivals from the mainland last night, and is registered at the Driard. Mr. Reed says the crops along the trunk road are light and backward. The haying season is over and that crop is also far below the average. Many are cutting the growing grain for fodder, as it is certain feed will be scarce and prices bound to rate high in that section of the province. A large number of miners and prospectors have gone into Cariboo since last spring. While there is nothing to warrant the assertion that there is a boom in mining matters, everything goes to indicate a decided change in the line of all such as are engaged in that industry. In quartz mining there is every reason to believe that the country is on the eve of witnessing a complete change in the system of working our quartz, which is known to be extremely rich in both gold and silver. Mr. Reed is the picture of good health. He will remain in the city for some days.

Black and Tan Cigars.

Murdered by his Uncle.

A Halifax dispatch of the 25th ult., states that news was received in that city on that afternoon of a terrible affair which occurred at Beaver Harbor, East Halifax, on Saturday. Geo. Currie, of Beaver Harbor, went to the house of his uncle, Henry Hawbolt, with the intention it is said of picking a quarrel with him. Arriving at the house he smashed in the door. Hawbolt having seen Currie coming towards his place loaded a gun with shot and after the door had been broken in he threatened Currie that he would kill him if he entered the house. Hawbolt it appears, then discharged the gun, the bullet entering Currie's bowels. Persons who were near at hand picked Currie up and sent for a doctor. When the medical man arrived he said that Currie could not live. The doctor's predictions proved correct, for yesterday morning Currie died in great agony. Hawbolt, immediately after the shooting took place, surrendered himself to the authorities. Both men lived near each other, and, it is said, have been employed in illicit liquor selling, and have been at swords' points for a long time. Hawbolt is a man about 45 years of age. The mother of Currie is Hawbolt's sister.

"Escort" and "Kentucky Smile" chewing tobaccos are especially put up for Pacific Coast trade by J. B. Pace Tobacco Co., Richmond, Va. *

Tony Cigars.

A Desirable Change.

Mr. Willis Bond has a gang of Chinese at work clearing away the old buildings on the site lately purchased by Mr. Dunsmuir between Store street and tide water in the harbor preparatory to commencing the erection of buildings for railway terminal purposes. When completed we understand the change will be one certain to be appreciated by every citizen. The present rickety tumbled down tinder boxes will be replaced by an elegant substantial structure, in which will be located the headquarters of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway. Large as is the space controlled by Mr. Dunsmuir it is not more than will be required for his railway and coal business. The railway will be carried into the building from the bridge on the trestle work; the space underneath being utilized for coal pockets. The buildings now being removed have long since ceased to be either ornamental or useful. They are relics of by gone days and none will regret their removal. To the south of Mr. Dunsmuir's property and down to the foot of Johnson street there is a nest of rookeries the property of absent landlords, which are a disgrace and a positive injury to that section of the city. They are but tinder boxes, fit material for a bon-fire. Once out of the way the former fire traps would be replaced by substantial structures. Whilst they stand little or no progress will be made in that section of the city, in which absentee landlordism has been productive of so much harm in retarding the progress and improvement of the city.

Just try a piece of "Escort," or "Kentucky Smile" chewing tobacco and you will be satisfied they are fine. Sold everywhere. J. B. Pace Tobacco Co., Richmond, Va. *

ON THE WING.

Movements of People We Know and have Read of.

Mrs. and Miss Bushby leave on Saturday for San Francisco.

Staff-Sergt. M. Fitzgerald, of Esquimalt, was reported at the Queen's Hotel, Winnipeg last Saturday.

The health of the Hon. A. E. B. Davie is improving satisfactorily. He is rusticating in the upper country, with Mr. Pinchbeck at William's Creek.

Mr. J. N. Muir, Principal of the High School, returned from the mainland on Monday night. He has been granted a further extension of a few days to his holidays, as he has to attend court to be held in Calgary this week.

Mr. F. S. Barnard returned from a visit to the Cariboo mines last night. His version of the crop outlook is corroborated by Mr. Reid, M. P. Mr. Barnard is sanguine as to the future of the district as a mineral centre. Hard rock miners are in great demand and at good wages in and around Barkerville. Any other class of miners are not wanted.

Sir James Blackwood, Secretary of the Imperial Postoffice Department, leaves England next Saturday for this country. In company with the Hon. Mr. McLelan, Postmaster General, he will visit Victoria and other points on this coast.

Mr. Alfred Arnold, wire manufacturer, of Halifax, is in the city, and was shown the sights to-day by Mayor Fell. He thinks that extremes meet, and that the two prettiest places in Canada are Halifax and Victoria. He leaves for San Francisco to-morrow morning.

Prior to his departure for Ottawa, Mr. A. M. Burgess, Mr. H. H. Smith, Mr. J. H. McTavish and General Superintendent Whyte, of the C. P. R. at Winnipeg, took a run over the line through Southern Manitoba. They found all along the line the most promising prospects for a successful harvest, and the settlers all jubilant. Parties from the east who arrived last night say the prospects for the Manitoba farmer were never better than they are this year. It is now believed the crop is safe against all harm for this season.

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS.

Guests at the Popular Sanitarium—Incidents, &c.

Arrivals at St. Alice's Hotel: Oscar Amles, D B Calleick, W C Coathem, Westminster; Geo W Aldous, Vancouver; Mr and Mrs Weir and child, Victoria; J Moresley, Neil McLean, J B McLean, J A Calleick, Chas McKane, John Sprout, Westminster; Boscolo Eugeno, Kamloops; P A Barnhart, C PR; Chas Doering, Vancouver; Jos Menzie, E Muschamp, Vancouver; Mrs and Miss Thomas, Winnipeg; A J Clark, Victoria; D A McDonald, Hope; G McGillivray and wife, Toronto; F J Carrathers, San Francisco.

Mr. Weir, of Victoria, who has been bathing at the springs for the benefit of rheumatism, is greatly improved.

Mr. Thompson, a New Westminster photographer, has been catching the shadows that play about Harrison Lake and will be able to present to the public a series of photographic views unexcelled by any other artist in the province. Among the most interesting views is one of a newly discovered falls, christened "Rainbow Falls." They were found by Mr. Fred. Brown while taking a constitutional before breakfast, and are about six miles from the hotel.

The weather is delightful, and the flies have almost totally disappeared.

The Majesty of the Law.

Supt. of Provincial Police Roycroft, leaves to-morrow (Thursday) morning on an official trip to Cowichan; thence along the east coast as far as Rivers Inlet. He will be absent some time, and takes with him special constables. He has also chartered a small steamer the better to enable him to attend to the duties which call him away. During his absence he will endeavour to find some tidings of the missing Sea Bird. It is believed a clue has been found to the murderers of the two men who were so brutally murdered on Hecate Strait some months since. It is to be hoped the superintendent will be successful in the various matters he has in hand on this occasion.

Blue Jackets Desert.

Four blue jackets deserted on Sunday night, taking a whale boat belonging to Larkin, Connolly & Co. It is supposed they boarded the Sound steamer on Monday, as the boat was found a drift in the straits next day. The boat was brought back by the owners steamer today.

Cariboo Mines.

Messrs. John G. Farrish, of Denver, Col., and Mr. Frank Barnard returned from Barkerville last night. Mr. Farrish is a mining expert, and the special object of his visit was to examine the Island Mountain and B. C. Milling Co.'s properties. Nothing, however, can yet be given to the public as to Mr. Farrish's opinion of these mining properties. That gentleman met the directors of the B. C. M. & M. Co. this morning, and it is a satisfaction to the directors to learn from so eminent an authority that the work on their properties is being prosecuted by Mr. Craib, the manager, in a most miner-like manner. It is expected that inside of three weeks, Mr. Farrish's report in full will be in the hands of the company.

Taking Their Depositions.

To-day (Wednesday) Stipendiary Magistrate E. Johnson, Q. C., went to the bedrooms of Martin and Fox, the victims in the Indian shooting case, at the Grand Pacific Hotel, for the purpose of taking the depositions of the wounded men. Supt. Bloomfield conducted the examination; Constable Lewis acted as interpreter. The prisoners were present. They acquiesced in the statements made by their intended victims, for whom it appears they had worked for some weeks, and received their pay in full, as well as all they could eat. Nothing new was elicited beyond what has already appeared regarding the affair. When their trial takes place in the Supreme Court these depositions will be submitted as evidence against the prisoners.

Welcome Back.

Mr. Andrew Gray returned from a prolonged visit to Scotland last night, and to-day at every step is meeting friends with outstretched hands giving him a right royal cordial welcome on his return. Mr. Gray has been absent since the 1st of last November, since which date he has traveled considerable and seen much to interest and instruct. In Scotland during the fifteen years of his absence great changes had taken place. He felt himself, outside of his father, a stranger in a strange land. It will be satisfactory to Mr. Gray's many friends to learn that he has decided to make his home in British Columbia. For some months he attended college, taking lessons in and studying mineralogy. He brought with him a complete laboratory with the view of testing and analyzing each rock or quartz as may be brought to his notice. He is the picture of good health and is beaming over with good nature. He came over the C. P. R and is greatly delighted with Eastern Canada, the cities of Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto and Winnipeg, as well as the Canadians whom he met, of whom has an exalted opinion.

The Caroline Returns.

H. M. S. Caroline, with Admiral Seymour on board, arrived from a cruise to Alaska this morning at 8 o'clock. She went as far north as Sitka. In Glacier Bay she went aground owing to an ice floe, but sustained no damage.

Turning the Tables.

In the Police Court this morning a woman named Mrs. Keyes, who keeps a wash-house on Chatham street, was summoned by a man named Miller for using threatening language. The defendant was bound over in the sum of fifty dollars to keep the peace for six months. The husband, like a good samaritan, furnished the necessary security.

Board of Trade.

A meeting of the Board of Trade Council was held yesterday, when matters relating to the policy pursued by the C. P. R. steamers towards Victoria were taken up and warmly discussed in a thoroughly practical form. It was hinted at that unless fair treatment was meted out to Victoria shipments to and from China and Japan would be sent via San Francisco and thus boycott the steamers now plying in these waters in the Oriental trade. Other matters were likewise discussed, such as the fisheries, light houses, the telegraph system, the sealing seizures and immigration. President Robt. Ward presided.

Stolen Goods.

Mr. O'Hagan's store, on Yates street, was robbed a few nights ago. H. McKeen, H. A. Carlton and a man named Thomas were arrested and charged with stealing a quantity of cloth from the above mentioned place. They appeared in the Police Court this morning and were remanded until Monday next. Sergt. Sheppard discovered the stolen property this morning; it was stowed away behind O'Hagan's store, a very unusual place for depositing stolen goods.

Passengers.

Contractors in Contact.

On Tuesday evening Mr. J. T. Gillespie, contractor, went into the shop of Mr. D. Munas, contractor, and an altercation ensued about business matters, the two men being engaged on the same building. Words turned into blows and both men were marked after the affray was over, Mr. Gillespie receiving a cut on the head by striking against a corner of shelving. The statement that a hammer was used is untrue. The case came up in the police court to-day, and was remanded after the hearing of evidence until Tuesday. Neither men are seriously injured, and as both are well known and respected citizens they will regret the occurrence more than the physical damage sustained.

Opposes a Road.

Vancouver Herald: A man named Cardwell, who owns a farm in the vicinity of Mud Bay, on the line of a proposed new road that the Provincial Government are about to build, refuses to allow anyone to cross his land, and has stated his intention of shooting the first one that does so. So far he holds the fort, but as the road spoken of above is a gazetted one and the time has about expired in which tenders for the construction of the road are to be in, it is the intention of the government to place this man under arrest for obstructing by threats the building of the road. In the meantime until something of this sort is done, Cardwell holds the fort, and no one dare go on, through or over the line of this proposed new road.

Major McDonell's Funeral.

The funeral obsequies of the late Major Ronald J. McDonell took place at 3.30 this (Wednesday) afternoon from the Masonic Temple. The procession was headed by a detachment of infantry with reversed arms, followed by members of the Garrison Artillery; the band of H. M. S. Triumph, under the leadership of band-master Agius, playing as a dirge the Dead March; then the members of the Masonic fraternity and their officers in regalia; Grand Master A. R. Milne with stewards on either side; Mr. Chas. Hayward, who had charge of the ceremonies; the hearse containing the mortal remains of the late Major. On either side of the hearse as pall-bearers were Brothers Peter Steele, James Mann, J. Coigdarripe, Supt. Roycraft, J. Mitchell, W. Haynes followed by the principal mourners the relatives of the deceased and a large number of vehicles.

The beautiful and impressive Masonic funeral service in the ritual of that order were gone through with in the lodge room and at the grave. After the secretary had deposited the apron of the deceased brother and the scroll of the lodge with his name thereon, the brethren dropped on the coffin sprig of acacia, the earth was thrown back in its place and all that remained of the late brother were forever hidden from view. The last and rites having been performed the procession reformed and marched back to the city.
